Birding Structures along TBT

The Dzongkhag Administration has developed birding structures along the Trans Bhutan Trail (TBT) from Latongla to Zhongar with financial support from UNDP-GEF. The trail from Latongla to Zhongar covers almost 20 kms and drops from the highest elevation of 2741 masl to the lowest elevation of 680 masl.

Mongar is known for being one of the birding hotspots not just in Bhutan but also one of the finest birding spots in the world. A total of 301 species of birds were recorded along the TBT from Latongla to Zhongar while conducting the survey. The survey also revealed a significant presence of both resident and migratory bird species, including several vulnerable and near-threatened ones. Some of the birds that can be spotted in the region include the Beautiful Nuthatch, Rufous-necked Hornbill, Ward's Trogon, White-bellied Heron, Black-necked Crane, and the Satyr Tragopan among others. The diverse range of habitats within the region contributes to the high bird species count, making it an attractive destination for birding enthusiasts.
